You hear ment and liberty in older governit, here and there, from the mouth of the ignorant who never think, who never read, and corsequently have no knowledge of political parties or political events,-the simple-minded perishing parasites who luxuriate only for a brief time, and between campaigns lie wretched in the sere and yellow leaf. You hear it at the court house from the ringster, who lives only to do the bidding of a crafty master, and exults in the thought that he is counted worthy to execute unprincipled plans by sharp practices in subversion of the popular will. You read it in the newspapers, small and great, whose editors would show themselves deserving of official plums or patronage pie, or empty-stomached with watering mouth impatiently waiting the dis tribution of another campaign fund These are public educators who say among themselves, "Ye know that by this business we have our wealth," men who in the days of Paul would have followed Demetrius the silversmith and resisted the progress of salvation by the foolish cry of "Great is Diana of the Ephesians!" Mr. Barnes's Mr. Kerr of Asheville, in order to utilize the last ray of dying embers and to relieve, if possible, the assertion of its intolerable weakness -seeing he must use it for lack of argument, puts the phrase even in the mouth of the loved and lamented Vance, as the very pith of his lates political utterance. And, while we should be loth to do such violent injustice to his memory as to believe that he said a thing so foolish, still we can not say that Vance did not give to Mr. Kerr, and through hin to the country if Mr. Kerr could have understood him, this certain evidence of mental failure and prognostic of speedy dissolution.

Respectfully, ROYALL & BORDEN,

FURNITURE DEALERS,

I had been troubled with heart disease 25 ears, much of that time very seriously. For ve years I was treated by one physician confinuously. I was in businese, but obliged to ethe on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a contin. My feet and limbs were badly swolen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentieman directed my attention to br. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his ister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was gain a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the fleart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could eel a decided improvement in the circulation funy blood. When I had taken three doses I ould move my ankles, something I had not lone for months, and my limbs had been swolen so long that they seemed almost putrified. Actore I had taken one bottle of the Newcart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own tork. On any recommendation six others are aking this valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan, 49 W. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.
